BROWN FAMILY

RHODE ISLAND

1. Nicholas Brown, b.---, d.1694, married, 1st wife, name unknown; 2d wife, Frances Parker, widow of George Parker, b.---, d.1669. He was from Portsmouth, Rhode Island. In 1638 he was admitted an inhabitant of the island of Aquidneck, which was the Indian name for Rhode Island.

In 1639 "Nicholas Browne doth dismiss of the government here". April 30, 1639, he and twenty eight others signed the following compact: "We whose names are signed here underwritten, do acknowledge ourselves the legal subjects of His Majesty, King Charles, and in his name, do hereby bind ourselves into a body politicke, and unto his laws, according to matters of justice".

Feb. 4, 1646, he had 20 acres added to his other 20 acres adjoining it. In 1656, he was admitted as a freeman. In 1680 he was taxed 8s, 4d.

In November 16, 1694, he made the following will, which was proved Dec. 27, 1694, and executed by his grandson, Tobias. To eldest son, Nicholas, 5s. To son Abraham, 5s. To daughter Jane Babcock 10 pounds. To grandson Tobias, son of William, all my lands and houses in Rhode Island, and all my neat cattle, sheep, horsekind and hogs, carts, plows, corn, hay, pewter, brass, iron, provision, apparel and bedding.

Children:

I. Nicholas, b.---, d.---

II. Abraham, b.---, d.---

III. Jane, b.---, d.1719. Married James Babcock, son of James and Sarah Babcock. James Babcock was born 1641, died 1698.

IV. William. (See below)

2. William Brown, 4th child of Nicholas Brown, was made a freeman in 1654. Date of birth unknown. He married, but wife's name is unknown. In 1680 he was taxed, 4s, 2d. He died at Portsmouth, R.I., previous to the making of his father's will in 1694.

Children:

I. Martha b.---, d.---, married John Sims, Feb. 5, 1706.

II. Jane, b.1677, d. Sept. 20, 1769, married John Rogers, b.1677, d. April 28, 1761.

III. Tobias. (See below)

3. Tobias Brown, son of William Brown, was born before 1673. He married Alice Burrington, daughter of William and Jane Burrington, about 1704. He was a large landowner in Middleton, Little Compton and Tiverton, Rhode Island. He was a member of the General Assembly, held for the Colony of Rhode Island, at Newport, May 5, 1696. He died in the summer of 1734. His will was presented for probate

Children of Abraham and Sarah Corey Brown:

1-2. Isaac and Benjamin, twins, b. October 17, 1756.

3. Abraham, b. Dec. 8, 1757, d. ---

4. Abigail, b. Dec. 15, 1759. Married Rev. Adoniram Judson, Nov. 23, 1786. Soon after their marriage, they settled at Malden, Mass. Their eldest son, Adoniram Judson (II), was the noted Baptist missionary to Burma.

5. Mary, b. July 13, 1761, d. ---

6. Sarah, b. Dec. 26, 1765, d. ---

7. William, b. April 30, 1770, d. ---. He married Grace Deming. Their son, William Hubbard Brown, was born 1796. He married Harriet C. Seward, daughter of Col. James Seward of Montgomery County, Ill. She was a cousin of Secretary Seward of President Lincoln's cabinet.

Wm. Brown, senior was a lawyer practicing for over 25 years with decided talent and success, moving to New York city, where he died previous to 1857.

His son, Wm. H. Brown, came west to Illinois, choosing this state because it had that year adopted a free constitution, abolishing slavery within the limits of the state. He was one of the early settlers of Chicago, and a prominent citizen. He was an intimate friend of Abraham Lincoln and frequently entertained him in his home. He was a leader in the Presbyterian work of the city, and first president of the Chicago Historical Society. He died in June 1857. (See Life of Wm. H. Brown, in Biographical sketches of Chicago's early settlers. Pt. 2. Fergus historical series, pt. 6)

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

This genealogical chart was prepared as an outline of genealogy to be issued in book form, but due to the sudden death of Mr. William Flack, it was never completed.

A few copies of the chart were sent to relatives, of which one is in the possession of his niece, Mrs. Maria Bowen Williams (Mrs. Gordon Williams) formerly of Quincy, Ill., and another owned by Lucy S. Brown of Oak Park, Ill., by whom this transcript was made.

Genealogies of the Bradley, Brown, Flack, Grinnell, Park, Rose, Stream, and allied families, showing their direct descent from Stephen Hopkins, signer of the Mayflower Compact, taken from a chart prepared by the Flack family of Quincy, Illinois, around 1905.

Stephen Hopkins was born in England in 1580, and came to this country in the ship, Mayflower in 1620. He was not of the Leyden Company, but came from London, joining the Pilgrims at Plymouth, England, with his second wife, Elizabeth, and their daughter, Damaris, also two children by his former marriage, Giles and Constance. Another child named Oceanus was born on the voyage over, but died early probably in the first winter.

Stephen Hopkins was the fourteenth signer of the Mayflower Compact. He was active in the affairs of colony. He died in the summer of 1644, his will being offered for probate, July 27, 1644.

Children:

1. Giles Hopkins, a son by first wife, born in England about 1605, married in October, 1639, Catherine Wheldon, dau. of Gabriel Wheldon of Yarmouth, and moved to Yarmouth where he died between March 15, 1689 and April 26, 1690.
2. Constance Hopkins born in England about 1608 a dau. of Stephen Hopkins by his first wife. She married Nicholas Snow of Plymouth, between 1623 and May 22, 1627. Constance died at Eastham, October, 1677.
3. Damaris Hopkins, dau. of Stephen Hopkins by his second wife, Elizabeth, date of birth not known, but was very young when she came over in the Mayflower. She married Jacob Cook at Plymouth; after June 10, 1646. He was born at Leyden, Holland about 1618, and died at Plymouth, July 7, 1676. Damaris died at Plymouth before Nov. 18, 1669.
4. Oceanus Hopkins, dau. of Stephen and Elizabeth Hopkins, was born on voyage over in Mayflower, died early, probably in first winter.
5. Deborah Hopkins, dau. of Stephen and Elizabeth Hopkins, was born at Plymouth. She married at Plymouth, April 23, 1646, Andrew Ring, who died there Feb. 22, 1692-1693. She died at Plymouth after 1666.

Nicholas Snow sailed from England for Plymouth Mass. in the ship Anne, early in the year 1623, arriving here in July. He was a man of considerable wealth and consequence in Plymouth, where he was elected a Representative to the state government in 1650 and 1652. Later he moved to Eastham, Mass. in 1654, purchased land and settled there, also serving again as a Representative. He died there Nov. 15, 1676, over 70 years old, his wife Constance Hopkins died there October, 1677.

Children:

1. Mark Snow, b. Plymouth, Mass., May 9, 1628, d. at Eastham about 1695. First wife, Anne Cook, d. July, 1656, second wife, Jane Prince, b. Nov. 1, 1637, m. 1660 or 1661.

~~**~~

Jeremiah Rose was born in Stephentown, Seneca County, New York, in 1792. He was reared on his father's farm. In 1815, he married Margaret Rogers Brown, daughter of "Major" Daniel Brown of Stephentown. In the fall of 1821 he moved to Illinois, settling first at Atlas in Pike County. In the fall of 1822, he had prepared to build, in partnership with John Wood (later governor of Illinois), a cabin at what is now Quincy. He was, however, taken very sick when the time came to commence the work, so hired a man to take his place, who aided Mr. Wood in putting up the cabin, into which Mr. Rose, his wife and daughter moved the following spring (1823). Mrs. Rose being thus the first woman settler of Quincy, and the daughter, Lucy Sally Rose, the first white child resident. Mr. Rose lived in or near Quincy the rest of his life. When the Adams County Militia was first organized, he was elected Major, and was always known after as Major Rose. He died in 1859.

at the age of 67.

George Wilbur Brown, who married Lucy Emily Rose, was the fourth child of Fardon and Sarah Woodbridge Brown of Glastonbury, Conn. He was born, July 2, 1811. In 1831 he left Glastonbury and came to Quincy, Illinois where he engaged in the foundry business, and was in it until his death, March 15, 1863. In 1836, Mr. Brown made a trip to Glastonbury and back, mostly by horseback. The original diaries which he kept on this trip are in the possession of his grandchildren. He was active in the cause of abolition, having a branch of the underground railway in his home. Some years after his death, his son Frank and family including his mother and sisters moved to Chicago where his mother died in 1888 in Glencoe, Illinois aged 72 years. George Wilbur Brown was a first cousin of Adoniram Judson, the noted Baptist missionary, and also of William Hubbard Brown, one of the early residents of Chicago, and first president of the Chicago Historical Society.

This hand written manuscript was acquired at an auction by Miss Lois Johnston, of the Chicago Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution.

The compiler is unknown, but was evidently a well qualified genealogist, as shown by the carefully worked out form in which the genealogies are written. The latest date mentioned is 1921, so it is a fairly recent work.

Excellent bibliographies accompany each genealogy, which show the authenticity of the material.

Copied and indexed by Lucy E. Brown, Chicago Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

WATERBURY FAMILY

The Waterbury family of America, amongst the oldest in this country, derives from England. Records show that two of this family were among the earliest settlers, William Waterbury, who with his wife Alice (Lincolnshire) came in the company of John Winthrop, first governor of Massachusetts, when he brought the charter of that colony, A.D. 1630, and John Waterbury, the progenitor of the family in America, who was amongst the earliest settlers of Watertown, Mass. The former, it is inferred, returned to England, as no further record is found of them.

An old work on the "Derivation of English family names", includes this one as of the Saxon period, derived from the name of the family estate.

According to remnants of records and editions, a branch of an old and noble family of Germany, Von Wasserberg, or Von Wazzerburg, very early domiciled in England in Essex County. There were intermarriages with prominent Anglo-Saxon and Norman families. The name became anglicized (identical with Wasserburg)

Descendants were not numerous. During the period of the Reformation, they espoused that cause and later some were identified with the Puritan element. The parents of John Waterbury were of that stock.

I

John(1) Waterbury, the emigrant ancestor, was born in Sudbury, Suffolk County, England, about 1620, and died in Stamford, Conn., July 31, 1658. He came to America about 1639 and settled first at Watertown

Mass., where the records show he was a man of property, married and with children. Oct. 15, 1646 he sold his property in Watertown to Robert Pierce and removed with his family to Wethersfield, and shortly afterward to Stamford, Conn., where according to the registration records of that town, he was granted land in 1650. He became a prominent and active citizen in the community and was elected a deputy to the General Court in New Haven from Stamford. John Waterbury married Rose Lockwood in England. She survived him and subsequently in May 11, 1659 married (second) Joseph Garnsey.

WEBB FAMILY

The Webb family is of English origin. People bearing the name appear in the Hundred Rolls of 1273. An important branch of the family is of Montcomb county, Dorset, England, whence Richard, the founder of the family in America came.

I

Richard (1) Webb was born in Dorsetshire about 1580 and died at the venerable age of one hundred years in Norwalk, Conn., about 1680. He emigrated to New England in 1636, settling in Cambridge, Mass., and thence to Boston where he was made a freeman, in 1632. Thereafter he removed to Hartford, Conn., establishing himself on the banks of the Connecticut river in 1635. After a time he again changed his residence to Stratford, later to Norwalk and subsequently to Stamford, Conn., where he spent the remainder of his days from 1650 until his death. In 1655, he was a deputy to the General Court, May 1610. He married Elizabeth Gregory, a daughter of John Gregory.

Children according to History of Greenwich, Mead, vol. 3, p. 677- were:

1. Daughter who married Thomas Butler.
2. Richard, of whom further.

II

Richard(2) Webb, a son of Richard(1) and Elizabeth (Gregory) Webb, was born in England in 1623, and came to America with his father at the age of three years. He settled in Stamford about 1676 and died there. Richard(2) married and his wife's name was Marjory ----. He was a man of some estate and note representing his town in the General Court as early 1667. His will was recorded in Fairfield July 1, 1675, and his death is in the town records, March 15, 1675-6, his inventory under date of April 29, 1676.

Children of Richard(2) and Marjory Webb:

1. Richard(3), b. 1648.

HOLLY FAMILY

Holly, Hallay and Hally, as variously spelled, is a family of English origin, and means dweller in the holly-tree. An important branch settled in the counties of Norfolk and Devon, and it is presumed that John Holly, the first progenitor of the family in America, and founder of the well-known Connecticut family, was a member of the gentry of that locality - surnames of the United Kingdom - Harrison.

I

John Holly was born in England about 1618 and came to America in 1630. He settled in Stamford, Conn. in 1642 and became one of the prominent citizens of the colony, playing an active and influential role in the public affairs of the town. His fellows called him on numerous occasions to serve in positions of trust and honor of civic significance, and he performed his duties to the satisfaction of all and added prestige to himself.

In 1643 he was Marshall of the Court, in 1644, he was appointed appraiser of various estates. In 1655 and 1667, he was made a member of a committee to settle differences with the Indians and colonists, and at the same time, in 1667, he served on the committee to adjudicate the boundary differences and dispute between Greenwich and Stamford. John Holly married in England and his wife, whose name was Mary, survived him in America. He died at Stamford, Conn., May 25, 1681 at the age of sixty three years.

Children:

1. John, b. Oct. 1642, d. Sept. 22, 1716, m. Apr. 2, 1679, Hannah Newman, who d. Jan. 24, 1734. Fourth child of son John, Nathaniel, m. Sarah Webb, and eighth child of son John, m. Abigail Webb, Jan. 1, 1749.

MOORE FAMILY

The name Moore designates a heath or moor, taken from the Anglo-Saxon. The ancient forms were Atte Mor, or More, or De Mor, and later refining themselves to Moor, Moore and More. John Atte Mor appears in the Hundred Rolls of County Norfolk, Adam Atte Mor, in those of County Oxford, and Fulco de la More in those of County Huntington in A.D. 1273. The Moore family is a prominent family in England, having spread throughout the island, with the exception of the const. Its chief localities are in Norfolk, Suffolk, York and Cambridgeshire. The name is spelled Moors, More, Moore, Moores, Mores and Moar.

Authorities: Dictionary of English and Welsh surnames. Bardsley.

Ancestors and descendants of Andrew Moore. J.A.W. Passmore.

I

Abraham Moore came from Chelmsford, England to Andover, Mass. about 1684. The vital records of that town show that he married Dec. 14, 1687, Priscilla Poore, daughter of Daniel and Mary (Farnum) Poore. (See Poore II)

Children:

1. Timothy, b. Sept. 16, 1688, m. Anna Blanchard, member of South Church, Andover, 1728.
2. Priscilla, b. May 15, 1691.
3. Abraham, b. Jan. 11, 1693 (?)
4. Mary, b. April 16, 1695.
5. Joseph, of whom further.

II

Lieutenant Joseph Moore, youngest son of Abraham and Friscilla (Poore) Moore, was born 1701 and died July 5, 1775, at age of 74, according to the church records of the First Congregational Church at Chelmsford Center. According to the gravestone inscription he was seventy years old, but in view of the diligence of church records, it would seem the former is the more probable date and age. Lt. Joseph Moore married Esther (Ester) Butterfield, who died Nov. 18, 1773. Their intentions were published June 21, 1731 (Butterfield IV)

Children:

1. Simeon, of whom further.
2. Charlotte.

III

Simeon, son of Lt. Joseph and Esther (Butterfield) Moore, was born Dec. 6, 1732, and was buried at the age of 49 years on Dec. 22, 1781. The Chelmsford Vital Records show that he married Dec. 17, 1755, their intentions being published Nov. 29, 1755, Joanna Thorndyke, or Thorndike, of Tewksbury, Mass.

Children, all born in Chelmsford, Mass.:

1. Ester, b. Jan. 8, 1757.
2. Joseph, b. Oct. 17, 1759.
3. Joanna, b. Nov. 17, 1761, d. Oct. 13, 1815.
4. Miel, b. April 11, 1764.
5. Herbert, b. July 20, 1766, m. Nancy Clark.
6. Micaiah, or Micaiah, of whom further.
7. Charlotte, b. Nov. 21, 1770.
8. Larkin, b. Aug. 27, 1772.
9. Infant, b. Feb. 22, 1775.
10. Infant Feb. 21, 1776
11. Sabra, or Sabia, b. June 8, 1777.
12. Lucretia, b. April 12, 1780.

IV

Micaiah, or Micaiah, Moore, son of Simeon and Joanna (Thorndyke, or Thorndike) Moore, was born in Chelmsford, Mass. according to the Vital Records of that town, Oct. 17, 1769, and died in Kalamazoo, Michigan, March 20, 1839, aged 70 years, 4 months. He married, Feb. 19, 1795, at Tewksbury, Mass., Mary Clark, daughter of Thomas and Mary Clark, born Sept. 14, 1772, and died of cholera in New York City, Aug. 22, 1832, corner Wooster and Bleeker streets. The marriage record and intentions of Micaiah and Mary (Clarke) Moore, as given in the Vital Records of Tewksbury, Mass., say that Micaiah was of Lyme, New Hampshire.

According to the History of Canaan, N.H., by Wm. Allen Wallace, on June 4, 1804, Micaiah was one of the incorporated proprietors of the Canaan Social Library (p.82). The bridge over the river near Josiah Clarke's mill in 1809 "required a gallon of Micaiah Moore's to complete it. The workmen drank it and then asked the town to pay for it, which was declined with thanks" (p.83). Micaiah was licensed "to keep tavern", 1803, 1812, p.88. In 1807 he owned 18 shares in Town Turnpike Land and sold to Micaiah Moore, Oct. 16, 1810, (p.132). On June 1811, he was one of a committee of three to dispose of turnpike shares, (p.135). It cost Micaiah Moore for assessments on turnpike $2481.30 (p.137). In 1808 a notice was posted on Lt. Moore's tavern calling people to come forward and state to what denominations they would be willing to pay minister's tax, otherwise they would be taxed as Baptists (p.156). Dr. Pierce built old tavern, opening it in 1794. It was later Moore's store, then Clarke's tavern, and later Grand View Hotel. On p.436 of History of Canaan, N.H., it is recorded that Moore and his brother-in-law Clarke "sold out and went West to the Ohio, disappearing forever from among us".

Children of Micaiah and Mary (Clarke) Moore:

1. Micaiah Clark, b. July 9, 1796, died of heart disease on Chestnut Street above 10th St., Philadelphia, Nov. 10, 1855.
2. Mary, b. Jan. 16, 1798, died Jan. 13, 1849 in Lyme, N.H., married Bezer Latham. In the Manual of the Congregational Church of Lyme, N.H., both Bezer Latham and Mary M. Latham are recorded under the date of 1831. Lyme Vital Records were burned in 1873 so the church records in existence are fair but incomplete. Only living child out of the marriage was Anderson, who died 1898 at White River Junction, Vt. After the death of Harry and Louisa (Moore) Waterbury, Mary Moore Latham brought up Julius Henry Waterbury and later Charlotte Waterbury.
3. Joseph Lewis, b. May 6, 1800.
4. Charlotte, b. June 4, 1802, died in Philadelphia, Jan. 18, 1870, m. Julius Church, Oct. 29, 1817. He d. Oct. 18, 1851.

POORE FAMILY

The Anglo-Norman family of Poore is descended from three brothers, John, Samuel and Daniel, who came to America from Wiltshire, England soon after the settlement of Massachusetts Bay Colony. John and Samuel remained in Newbury, Mass., but Daniel emigrated the pleasant town of Andover, within a short time after it had been incorporated. He became the progenitor of the family herein traced.

(Dictionary of English and Welsh surnames. Bradley)

Poor family gathering in Andover, Mass. in 1884)

I

Daniel Poore was born in Wiltshire, England and is thought to have been a passenger aboard the good ship "Bevis" sailing from Southampton, 1638, since the name of a boy of fourteen appears on the passenger list as Daniel Poore. He came with his two brothers and his sister Alice. He landed first in Newbury, but removed to Andover, where he settled on the Shawsham, or Shawshin river in what is now North Andover on the old road to Lawrence. The house still stands on the right bank of the river which was occupied by the third generation from Daniel. Daniel was married in Boston, by Mr. Higgins Oct. 20, 1650, to Mary Farnum, a daughter of Ralph and Elizabeth (Holt) Farnum. Ralph's name was among those who were proprietors and also householders before 1681 in the records of Andover, Mass., and is on the list of male citizens of Andover, who were ordered in 1678 to take the oath of allegiance to the King. Daniel Poore's Will was dated June 7, 1689 and probated June 24, 1690. In it he mentions his wife and children.

Children:

1. Sarah, b. Dec. 28, 1652.
2. Matthew (a daughter), b. Nov. 4, 1654.
3. Daniel, b. Sept. 5, 1656.

9. Elizabeth, b. Apr. 15, 1661.
10. Priscilla, of whom further.
11. Lucy, b. Sept. 28, 1670

II

Priscilla, daughter of Daniel and Mary (Farnum) Poore, was born in Andover, Mass., June 22, 1667, and married Abraham Moore, Dec. 14, 1687. (See Moore I)

In the will of Daniel Poore, he gave to his daughter Triscilla, the meadow on the west side of the Shawshin river, commonly called the pond meadow.

CLARKE FAMILY

(Spelled Clerk, Clarke, Clark, Clerke, Clarck, Clarcke)

John Clarke, emigrant from Great Bendon, England, reached Cambridge, Mass. on Newtowne, in 1632. He took the freeman's oath in the General Court, held Nov. 6, 1632. He was one of the 42 men to whom land was assigned in Newtowne, March 29, 1632. His share was a lot on the easterly corner of Brattle and Mazon streets. In 1635 he sold this to Edward Winship and removed to Hartford, Conn. and in 1645 to Saybrook. He was Deputy to the General Court, 1649.

Nicholas Clarke arrived in Boston, Sept. 16, 1632, on the Lion. He sold a lot on the easterly side of Mazon street, Cambridge, or Newtowne, Mass. and went to Hartford, Conn. with Thomas Hocker in 1635. Tradition says he built the first frame house in 1635 for Captain Talcott. He died July 2, 1680. Two histories make John and Nicholas the forbears of Jonas(1), presiding elder of Cambridge, Mass. Jonas must have been 12 years old when they came to America, and was either left behind when they went to Hartford, or else returned. The authorities for this ancestry of Jonas(1) are: 1. History of Cambridge. Lucius R. Paige, p. 510. 2. History of Chelmsford. Rev. Wm. Waters, p. 770.

I

Jonas, or Jonah(1) Clarke, reputed to be descended from John and Nicholas Clarke, was presiding elder of Cambridge, Mass. He died Jan. 14, 1699, aged 79 years. He married 1. BUTTERFIELD FAMILY

Butterfield is the name of a small spot seemingly in West Midway, Yorkshire, but with the passage of years, the surname has crossed the border into Lancastershire. The family in England date its arrival from Norway in the twelfth century when Robert de Buterville held two fees in Bedfordshire in 1165, and also in Norfolk (Liber Niger). John de Buterville was possessed of the lordship of Cheddington in Buck-shire in 1316.

I

Benjamin Butterfield, the emigrant ancestor, was an inhabitant of Charlestown, Mass. of the Bay Colony in 1638, and later of Woburn, 1640, removing thereafter to Chelmsford, Mass., where according to the Chelmsford Vital Statistics, he died March 2, 1668. He is believed to have married first in England, his wife's name being Ann. She is recorded in Sowell's History of Woburn as having died at Chelmsford, May 19, 1660. Benjamin appears in the records of this same book, as having married, second, June 3, 1663, Hannah, widow of Thomas Thitticore. She died March 19, 1677, according to Chelmsford Vital Records.

Children, all by first marriage:

1. Jonathan, b. in England, m. Ruth Wright.
2. Mary, b. in England, m. Sept. 1653, Daniel Blodgett, d. Sept. 5, 1666.
3. Nathaniel, of whom further.
4. Samuel, b. Woburn, May 17, 1647.
5. Joseph, b. Woburn, Aug. 15, 1649.

II

Nathaniel Butterfield, son of Benjamin and Ann Butterfield, is recorded as b. Feb. 14, 1642/3 and baptized Dec. 1, 1656, according to the Chelmsford Vital Records. He married, Dec. 31, 1668, at Chelmsford, Deborah Underwood (1653-1691) daughter of William and Sarah (Pellett) Underwood. William Underwood moved from Concord to Chelmsford in 1652. He was admitted to freeman's oath in 1650 and was supposed to have come from England prior to 1640.

Children:

1. Deborah, b. June 1, 1660 (70)
2. Benjamin
3. Samuel
4. Nathaniel, of whom further.
5. Jonathan.
6. William, b. Dec. 5, 1686.
7. Sarah, b. March 6, 1689.

III

Nathaniel(2) Butterfield, the older son of Nathaniel(1) and Deborah(Underwood) Butterfield, was born Jan. 28, 1673, at Chelmsford, Mass. and died there in 1749. He married first, Jan. 18, 1697, at Chelmsford, Sarah Fletcher (b. May 26, 1679, d. June 19, 1704), a daughter of Lt. William and Sarah (Richardson) Fletcher of Nottingham West. (See Fletcher IV) His second wife, Alice, survived him after his death.

Children:

1. Lideah, b. Chelmsford, Sept. 19, 1698, m. Mr. Foster.
2. Esther (Ester), of whom further.
3. Nathaniel, b. Dec. 25, 1711, d. 1756.

IV

Esther(Ester) Butterfield, a daughter of Nathaniel(2) and Sarah(Fletcher) Butterfield, was born at Chelmsford, Mass., Nov. 14, 1703, and died Nov. 18, 1779, aged 66 years. She married at Chelmsford, Lieut. Joseph Moore. (See Moore II) Their intentions were published, June 21, 1731.

SERGEANT CALEB HOPKINS CHAPTER
DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION
SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

THE ROOD GENEALOGY

The Rood Genealogy in Part

This information was furnished in part by Nelson Lancelot Rood of W. L. Rood and Son, Implement Dealers, Webster City, Iowa (deceased). It has been added to by Robert Rood Buell, 410 Beaver St., Beaver Dam, Wisconsin; and by Gertude Rood Wait, 1117 South Seventh Avenue, Maywood, Illinois. I have added some further information concerning the last marriages and births in the James Pease Rood branch, and some earlier dates I have found with the references as to book and page where found. Nelson Lancelot Rood was a cousin of mine as is Robert Rood Buell. Gertude Rood Wait is an aunt. I am Leila Mae Terry, daughter of Mary Rood Terry.

This in no way represents a complete record of the data readily available concerning the entire family in America. It does, however, present a good working start for many of the Rood descendants to trace their ancestry. I understand there is to be published a complete genealogy within the next few years.

The name Rood seems to be of Anglo-Saxon origin, although you will find conflicting opinion presenting argument that it is of Scottish or Gaelic development, perhaps it is a combination of the two. Here is part of the story of the evolution of the name from the Anglo-Saxon: Rdd, pronounced Rood, meaning cross. 1/ Most authorities accept several spellings of the name in the early history of America; some of the more common are: Roods, Rude, Ruld, and Ruddle.

I

Unknown Rood: Supposed to have been a pirate of sorts in the West Indies. Ran his ship into Narragansett Bay or Boston about 1630 and settled down to grow up with the country. He seems to have followed the trade of ship building. He was undoubtedly the father of Thomas Rood. I (H. L. Rood) am still following this my first theory, I may be wrong, still it can be made much surer than the theory that we have descended from a lawyer at Lynn by the name of Rood. There was such a man and he was among the first, but starting at the S. E. corner of Conn. we can trace pretty surely to Mariner Rood I, from which time the tree is a dead certainty. Tradition has it that the wife of this first Rood was a Spaniard or Indian woman from the Bahamas.

II

Thomas Rood: Born about 1626, place unknown at this time.

He was an early settler in the vicinity of Stonington and Norwich, Conn. He married a woman, Sarah_____, who died in March 1668; he died in 1672. Since their children are all listed in the Norwich Vital Records it would seem Thomas and Sarah stayed pretty much in that community. 2/

VI

James Rood: (1773-1849) m. Sarah (Sally) Babcock (1776-1860)

This James Rood was a large man. N. L. Rood states that he remembers seeing him just once. James was over six feet tall and big in every way. His wife, Sarah, was so small that there was just enough to hang a name upon. But she had an intellectual head, could repeat nearly all of the Bible by heart and was one of the most active women he ever knew. She made James Rood a great wife. They lived at Sandersfield, Mass. where all their children were born, they moved with part of the children first to Conn. then to New York and in June of 1836 to La Salle County, Illinois. They lived in Illinois until their deaths some several years later. The home was the farm later known as the Albert Rood Farm. The old town of Newark was the P. O., being on the old stage line from Chicago to Ottawa, The farm was near the present town of Sheridan which was built years later when the RR. was run through from Aurora to Ottawa.

The children of James Rood and Sarah (Sally) Babcock were:

1. Anna Rood, b. Dec. 27, 1799 at Sandersfield, Mass.
died Jan. 20, 1802 at Sandersfield, Mass.
- * 2. Levi H. Rood, b. Jan. 15, 1803 at Sandersfield, Mass.

VII

Levi H. Rood: (1803-1875) m. Lura Ann Phillips (1812-1852)

m. 2 Mary Elizabeth Wyman (1827-1900)

Levi H. Rood left his home in Sandersfield, Mass. when only 20 years of age and went with a younger brother, Lancelot, to Georgia, where he engaged in merchandising until 1835 when he came to La Salle County Illinois. He had two brothers, Lancelot and Albert Rood, who settled in Illinois at about this time. Levi H. Rood came to Illinois with $4000 in gold and was offered all of Cook and other counties of northern Illinois, but turned it down because it wasn't worth the price! He began farming and soon added to his business: Real Estate and Loans. He was in all matters a successful man and left at his death a good fortune. He was a typical Rood, six feet one inch tall, and a noticable man in any company. His son Levi W. Rood, lived on the old farm, a fine estate of some six or eight hundred acres near Sheridan until his death in 1936.

Children of Levi H. Rood and Lura Ann Phillips (4)

1. Mary H. Rood, b. Sept. 11, 1839 at Sheridan, Ill.

James Pease Rood: (1842-1901) m. Helen Gertude Manchester
(1846-1920)

James P. Rood was a handsome man, of good stature and sandy complexion. He was well endowed with the Rood charm of personality. Helen Manchester was a small brown eyed, dark haired woman of beauty and great spirit. She was an exceptionally well educated woman for her day having graduated from the Fowler Institute at Plano, Illinois in addition to having an extensive musical education in both piano and voice. Perhaps her most notable attribute was the unstinted love she was accorded by her children and her friends. James and Helen moved to Lamont, Ill. where James's father had established him in the drug business. In 1872 James sold the store and moved with his wife and two small sons to the State of Kansas, (near Independence) where he went into the sheep raising business on a large scale. James entered state politics and served several terms as State Senator for the Republican Party. He was serving in the Kansas legislature at the time of the so called "Rump Legislature". He was not, however, one of the members of the "Rump". He served in the Civil War.
